

I urge the Federal Communications Commission to NOT ALLOW the use of cellular phones in flight on US commercial flights for the following reasons:

1. As air travel is already fraught with tension, persons talking on phones will exacerbate this atmosphere by creating resentment from other passengers, leading to possible hostile confrontations among passengers. This will jeopardize air safety for the entire flight.
2. The sound of persons talking on phones is an unwarranted intrusion on the privacy and comfort of other passengers.